

CONTENT

Chapter I

The notion of consular law.Characteristics of consular law	8
1.1. The notion of consular law	8
1.2. Characteristics of consular law.....	9
1.3. Consular Law sources.....	10

Chapter II

Consular Relations. Notion. Characterization. Definition	13
2.1. General considerations	13
2.2. Subjects of consular relations. Content and legal nature of consular relations	13

Chapter III

Ways of setting and termination of consular relations	18
3.1. The way of setting of consular relations.....	18
3.2. Manner of cessation of consular relations	19
3.3. Comparative elements between consular relations and diplomatic relations	19

Chapter IV

Consular Functions	22
4.1. The exercise of consular functions by consular offices.....	22

Chapter V

The establishment of consular offices. The consent of the residence state	29
5.1. The consent of the residence state – compulsory prerequisite for the establishment of a consular office	29

Chapter VI

Consular offices staff	33
6.1. The categories of staff	33
6.2. Appointment and admission of the consular office members	37
6.3. Grounds for the termination of functions of a member of the consular office.....	49

Chapter VII

Notifications that are made in connection with the heads of consular offices and for consular offices members. The consular precedence order

order	52
7.1. The notification made in connection with the heads of consular offices and the consular staff.....	52
7.2. The consular precedence order.....	53
7.3. The interim gerent	54

Chapter VIII

Consular Functions

8.1. The notion of consular function and the areas where consular activities are developed	57
8.2. Content of consular functions.....	58
8.3. Limits of consular activity conduct	59
8.4. Classification of consular functions	60
8.5. Fulfillment, by the consular officials, of diplomatic documents and other political activities	63
8.6. Contribution of consular offices to promoting economic, commercial, technical, scientific, tourism relations and to the development of friendly relations between states and peoples	66
8.7. Consular functions relating to passports.....	69
8.8. Consular functions in civil status matters.....	71
8.9. Consular functions in judicial and transmission of documents matters	73
8.10. Consular functions in connection to citizens living in the country or abroad	74
8.11. Notarial consular functions.....	84
8.12. Consular functions relating to succession	88
8.13. Consular functions in the field of navigation and civil aviation.....	92
8.13. Other functions	98

Chapter IX

The legal status of consular offices and their staff members

9.1. Consular immunities and privileges	102
9.2. Rights, immunities, privileges and facilities granted for the consular offices	109
9.3. Rights, immunities, privileges and facilities of consular staff	121

9.4. Rights, immunities, privileges and facilities granted to family members of the consular staff	133
9.5. Beginning and termination of consular immunities, privileges and facilities	134
9.6. Waiver of immunities	136
Chapter X
The institution of honorary consuls and honorary consulates, their legal status	138
BIBLIOGRAPHY	141